The Berlin Conference.
 London, June 25.—A Berlin dispatch to Reuter's Telegram company says: "It is expected that the supplementary conference will be able to conclude its labors to-morrow, and a protocol will then be adopted declaring that the ambassadors have fixed the limits separating the two spheres of influence."

The ambassadors will then report to their respective governments, and the powers will dispatch an identical note to the porte announcing the decision of the conference. It is believed that the conference so thoroughly complete that it will be unnecessary to take special executive steps for carrying its de-

LONDON, June 26.—The Times' Berlin correspondent reports that the conference was entirely unanimous in regard to the Greek frontier line, which is that elaborated by General Sir Lertens Simmons before he left London. It was submitted by him for approval to France, and recommended to the conference by the Count De St. Vallier. The proposal is there-

A Compromise in the Bradlaugh Case.
LONDON, June 26.—The Morning Post says: "We understand that the following compromise has been entered into between Premier Gladstone and Mr. Labouchere, the latter acting for Mr. Bradlaugh: Mr. Bradlaugh was to abandon his intention of presenting himself to take a seat on a pledge given by Mr. Gladstone that he (Mr. Gladstone) would support, as a vote of confidence in the government, Mr. Labouchere's motion for a vote of censure on Mr. Bradlaugh."

Parnell's Irish Relief Bill.
LONDON, June 25.—In the house of commons to-day Mr. Parnell moved to second reading of his new Irish relief bill, the object of which was to appoint a commission for the relief of distress, consisting of a chairman, two ganged in the relief of distress in Ireland for the last six months, and that £200,000 of the Irish church fund surplus be handed over to the commission, to be appropriated as they might deem fit. Right Hon. Wm. E. Forster, chief secretary for Ireland, said he could not assent to a bill which proposed to adopt an en-ment's cause, aided by private charity, would be sufficient to meet the evil. He regretted, he said, that there had been fever in some of the distressed districts, but there was no evidence that it could be traced to famine, and it was confined to a very few places. The reports he had received from Ireland to-day, Singular Disturbances in the Italian Deputies.

ROME, June 25.—In the chamber of deputies to-day an individual in the gallery set apart for the public flung two large stones into the hall below, but no one was hurt. The man was immediately arrested. He said he wished harm to the chamber in general, and not to any particular deputy. He refused to give his name, and said that later on he would state motives which prompted the act.

Later—After again being questioned the prisoner said his name was Gordinigliani; that he was, called an "Alibi" on the basis of the "Dunbar" case.

of the intention of killing a personal enemy or of committing suicide, but that being desperate and tormented by hunger he had done something for which to be arrested, in order to obtain food in prison. He also alleged that some time ago he had received a commission to come to Rome to assassinate

ROME, June 25.—Gardigliani is twenty-six years of age. It is believed he is insane. His pockets were found full of stones. Those he threw fell upon the ministerial bench, upon which several deputies were sitting. They were flung with great force.

LONDON, June 25.—A Vienna dispatch to the Times says: "There appears to be little doubt that a reconstruction of the ministry is impending. It is expected that next week Ministers Tremayer, Korb, Horst and Kriegssau will resign."

the Times says: "The idea of replacing the retiring ministers by parliamentary men seems to have been indefinitely given up. All the names mentioned are not of parliamentary men, but of functionaries, except Dr. Dunajewski, a Pole, who is likely to be minister of commerce. The chief difficulty is to find a

LONDON, June 20.—The correspondent of the Times at Péra, describing the famine in Asia Minor, says he learns from all sides that the British consuls, American relief committees and American missionaries have been most active and have done all in their power to alleviate the miseries of the famished popula-

American Clocks in China.

Mr. Denny, the consul-general of the United States at Shanghai, in a recent dispatch informs the department of state that an American manufacturing company has met with successful success in the introduction of

They went out all night with 400 or 500 cases of sample clocks, running six and twelve in this case, to establish a business in Shanghai, and within four days after he opened his sample rooms he had disposed of every one. The agent informed Mr. Denny that in the same time he could have sold at least 1,000, and 2,000 cases. Mr. Denny stated that a large field is now open to American manufacturers in this particular article, and that with an earnest endeavor on their part to meet the wants of the Chinese market they can control the trade.
